Class of '78 completes eventful year

342 comprise 100th graduating class

Surrey School for Boys

Broadway School for Girls

Graduating Class of 1925

ONE CENTURY OF confusion with the transformation, expansion, conjunction, and separation of Hagerstown high schools ultimately produced a modern, efficient North High.

Broadway and the Hagerstown Academy were Hagerstown's high schools in the 1870's. Surrey, for boys, and Broadway, for girls, served the city until 1928 when the co-educational high school on North Potomac Street was finished.

Hagerstown High School's growing enrollment in the 1950's necessitated two new campuses. South High opened in 1957; then this school opened in 1958 on Pennsylvania Avenue and became unique.

In 1964, North High represented "the typical American high school" in displays and pictures at an international exhibit in Dortmund, Germany. North was the first Maryland high school to be named a demonstration center by the U.S. President's Council of Physical Fitness. That was 1969, an honor repeated six times.

North High was the first in the county to endeavor team teaching, a work study program, semi-open space education, and a centralized counseling center. The school's program has been fully accredited twice by the Middle States Association and will be re-evaluated by them next year.

The number of graduates has fluctuated from seven in 1883 to 555 in 1965 down to 342 this year.

Senior superlatives selected by classmates

SENIOR SUPERLATIVE ELECTIONS, an annual class activity, created a jumbled situation. This year, open nominations were taken and top nominees were chosen; ties were broken by final elections. However, many dissatisfied seniors petitioned, and seniors renominated classmates. In each category, the names of three seniors receiving the highest number of nominations appeared on the final ballot. The class selected students shown on these pages.

The class motto: "Yesterday is but a dream; tomorrow is only a vision; but today well lived makes yesterday a dream of happiness and tomorrow a vision of hope" expresses the class philosophy. The red rose, class flower, symbolizes sentiment and beauty. By selecting the class song, "Looks Like We Made It," seniors musically sighed their relief at completing their secondary education.

Class of '79 shows increase in participation

Adviser Mr. Leon Brumback

President Bruce Greenwald

PARTICIPATION BECAME THE keyword for Juniors in '77-'78. Under the leadership of President Bruce Greenwald and Adviser Leon Brumback, the class handled a concession stand at the Mummers' parade in October and fall sales of Tom Wat kits, which exceeded $1000 in profits.

Traditional concession stands at home basketball games provided additional funds toward the Prom.

Decorating Junior Hall during North-South week in November and winning the spirit medal at the first pep assembly further demonstrated class unity.

Prom '78 topped the year.

Sophomores execute numerous events

Adviser Robert Wheatley helped to solve any problems.

AFTER A CHALLENGING amateur year, the sophomores returned with a more significant role in activities. To guide them through their second year, they again chose Edie Padula as their leader. Mr. Robert Wheatley offered his services as the group's new adviser. The class planned many events to raise money needed for prom. Bake sales, car washes, a class dance, a candy sale, and a concession stand at the Mummies' Parade led the list. At the year's culmination, the class of '80 looked ahead to prom and upper-class status.

Spirited Class of '81 begins high school years

FRESHMEN STARTED THEIR first year of high school with enthusiasm. Led by Mr. Michael Gouker advising in his first year at North, and Gayle VanLaningham, class president, the frosh held various sales and fund-raisers. Some transactions were after-school bake sales, Saturday sales at Long Meadow Shopping Center, candle and record album sales in January, and rose sales for Valentine's Day. A concession stand at the Mummers' parade merited more than $50 profit. During North-South weeks, frosh decorated their hall with posters and crepe paper. Officers and cabinet members attended meetings from 3:30 to 4:15 most Wednesdays.

Adviser Michael Gouker discusses future activities.

New policies introduced, applied by administrators

HEADED BY DR. R. Allan Gorsuch, in his first year at North, administrators planned gradual changes "to pull the school together." Several new Board of Education school policies had to be introduced and applied, such as homework philosophy and the limited door-to-door fund raiser policy. Along with these, the administrators had to lead preparations for next year's Middle States evaluation and they began a new look at the overall curriculum.

The four member team consisted of Mr. Walter Galbraith, administrative assistant; and three new members: Mr. Richard Hawkins, administrative assistant; Mrs. Jane Guyton, vice-principal; and Dr. R. Allan Gorsuch, principal.

NINE LADIES CONSTITUTED the secretarial staff with three in the guidance office, three in the main office, and two in the coordinators' offices. In addition, the guidance department obtained a new Comprehensive Educational Training Act aide. This group assumed such duties as delivering the announcements, keeping accurate records, and assisting the administration in numerous ways.

Special programs aid students

CAREER NIGHTS, HEALTH center nights, an armed forces night, and college search nights held Wednesday evenings 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. were special programs offered by the counseling center. Mr. Kenneth Maynard guided these activities after the transfer of Michael Sweeney. Four counselors, including a new staff member and a new part-time CETA aide, Theresa M. Freeman, helped, advised, and guided students toward careers and college.

Staff keeps school in tip-top shape

TWO GROUPS ESSENTIAL to the proper functioning of the school were cooks and custodians.

Mrs. Dorothy Worthington headed a cafeteria staff of 13 ladies who arrived at 6 a.m. to tackle the task of planning, preparing, and serving nutritious noon-day meals to three shifts of hungry, impatient students. Menu favorites this year were turkey platters and submarine sandwiches. The discontinuation of the breakfast program eliminated a small part of their service.

Mr. Walter Miller headed the custodial team of 14 who kept halls shiny and classrooms neat. Miss Bonnie Printz assisted part-time employees. Mr. Jerry Murphy took charge of the evening shift.

Mysteries unravel via research, experiments

Mrs. Nancy Hurley

UNDER THE LEADERSHIP of Mr. Douglas Keesecker, the science department planned its courses according to student demand. The department was comprised of nine teachers with the addition of Mr. Curtis Irion and Mr. Howard Guth who replaced Mr. Kenneth Ray, on leave, and Mr. David Roulette, deceased.

Among the microscopes, bunsen burners, encyclopediae and ferns, students enriched their knowledge with research and experiments. Freshmen ventured into the world of biology while sophomores studied molecular charts and plants. Many college-bound juniors and seniors attempted physics, advanced physics and medical biology.

Figures, calculations stimulate minds

Mr. Philip Crabtree, department head

MATHEMATICS, UNDER THE direction of second-year head Mr. Philip Crabtree, offered students numerous courses with varied degrees of difficulty. Those with the greatest initiative tested calculus, while others took classes ranging from general math to algebra.

The only major alteration to the program was the addition of a remedial math section for students deficient in basic math skills. The department suffered one setback when they failed to obtain funds for a proposed math lab. An experienced staff of eight instructed students in both fundamental and advanced math skills.

Students attain necessary office, business skills

DESIGNED ESPECIALLY TO prepare students for office careers or business-oriented college courses, the business program played an important role in the school's curriculum. A faculty of six, led by Mrs. Karen Teach, comprised this department.

Students learned necessary skills in typing, notehand, English, math, and general business classes. Because of the addition of more typing classes, the department experienced an increase in enrollment. Personal typing was reduced to one-half year for college-bound students. Freshmen enrolled in an Introduction to Business class, while upperclassmen were entitled to lab courses of double periods.

Open English, mini-mesters: program format

MR. GERALD HAINES, first-year English department head, worked with the semi-open space program for ninth and tenth graders and mini-mesters for upperclassmen.

The semi-open space program consisted of six teachers covering grammar, composition, literature, and reading. Underclassmen were taught by two new educators, Mrs. Katherine Sweeny, reading, and Mr. Robert Wheatley, grammar. Teacher-directed classes were also available to underclassmen.

Mini-mesters, each nine weeks, provided upperclass students with a selection of courses taught by seven teachers in directed classes of specialized grammar, composition, and literature.

'Contemporary Issues' new mandate

Mr. Donald McCammon, department head

HEADED BY MR. Donald McCammon, the social studies department acquired no new teachers and added no new courses. However, Contemporary Issues was restructured into a countywide, government-oriented program. The number of social studies credits required for graduation remained three, but two of these had to be United States History and Contemporary Issues.

Students scheduled their individual preferences from a diverse list of thirteen classes. According to Mr. McCammon, twelve "well-qualified" teachers attempted to educate their pupils "on values, tolerance, and respect for others."

Languages mold usage, culture

Mr. Hugo Cardenas, department head

PRACTICAL USAGE AND learning was a main goal of the foreign language department. Under the supervision of five year department head, Mr. Hugo Cardenas, four teachers planned classes which taught students conversational and practical French, Spanish, and Latin. Among many highlighted events were dinners, field trips, and the annual soccer game in May between French and Spanish classes.

Home Ec. examines survival skills

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT split course monotony with a new program for upperclassmen. According to Mrs. Rosalee Leach, department head, courses were structured to prepare students with real life survival skills. The new program offers four nine-week mini-courses including Parenting, Independent Living, Foods for your Future, Creative Decorating, Experiences with Pre-Schoolers, Family Living and Single Living. Freshmen learned basics in Home Economics I, covering such areas as clothing, foods, relationships, and consumerism.

Students learn various skills in practical arts

STUDENTS REGISTERED IN the industrial arts department headed by Mr. Messina, learned various useful skills. The department consisted of four industrial arts teachers and Mr. Leasure in Drivers' Education. Freshmen acquired basics in Mechanical Drawing and other industrial arts courses. Students undertook courses such as Architecture I, II, III, wood and metal shop, Industrial Arts I and II, and Machine Drawing. Most practical arts students were freshmen; enrollment dwindled to only eight or nine seniors. In Drivers' Ed, more than four hundred sophomores and juniors acquired the skills needed to drive in Maryland.

State law enlarges gym class

SERVING HIS FIRST year as department head, Mr. Harry Fogle supervised the operation of the physical education department. The staff of six acquired Mr. Frank McAdoo, who replaced Mr. Eugene "Yogi" Martin.

A new state policy for incoming freshmen requires four years of physical activity. This increased the physical education enrollment by approximately 125. Freshmen participated in a program developed by the teachers, while upperclassmen again received the privilege of choosing their activities. Selections ranged from swimming at the YCMA to ballroom dancing and Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation instruction.

THE FINE ARTS department maintained a program with courses in choral, instrumental, and theoretical music, and beginner to advanced art.

Although musicians performed a multitude of concerts and field shows, their participation in a band festival at Daytona, Florida, highlighted the musical year. The department received a new art instructor, Mr. Michael Gouker, who attempted to build interest in the fine arts program. He stressed cooperation with the PTSA and faculty, and student involvement in contests and competitions.

IN MEMORIAM

*As the long train
Of ages glide away, the sons of men —
The youth in life's green spring, and he who goes
In the full strength of years,
matron and maid,*

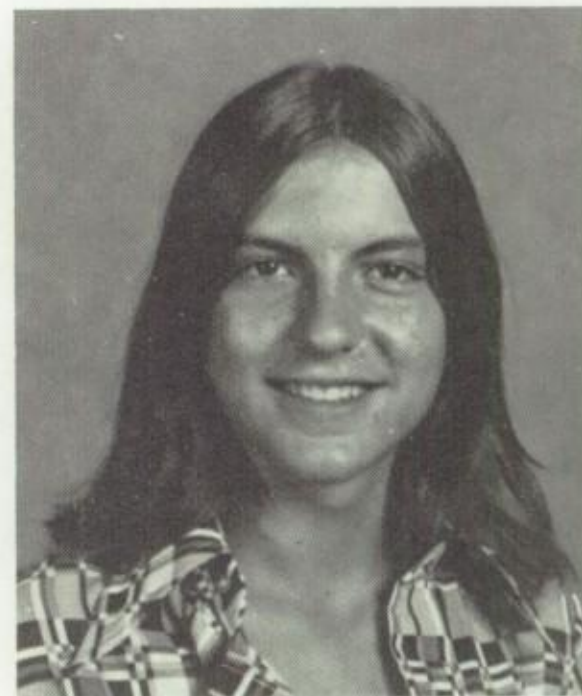

Larry Jay Beavers

*The speechless babe, and the gray-headed man —
Shall one by one be gathered to thy side
By those who in their turn shall follow them.*

*So live that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan which moves
To that mysterious realm where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not, like the quarry-slave
at night,
Scourged to his dungeon, but,
sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him and lies down to pleasant dreams.*

Mr. John David Roulette

TEACHER JOHN DAVID Roulette came to North from Hancock High School in 1974 to instruct biology. He enjoyed teaching and being with kids. A Hub graduate, he had enjoyed sports such as football, track, golf, fishing, and hunting during his teen years.

"Mr. Roulette tried to give as much to North as he could," expressed Mr. John Davidson.

Mr. Roulette attended home football games, used his influence for the new track, and attended as many other North sports events as he could. He was assistant track coach at North for four years and a soccer coach.

Soccer was not one of Mr. Roulette's main interests until North students wanted a team. He put forth his efforts by reading and studying about the game. Mr. Roulette even shortened his honeymoon in order to coach the soccer team. According to Coach John Davidson, North's soccer program would not be as strong as it is now without Mr. Roulette's influence.

Students and faculty have remembered and honored David Roulette. At the first pep assembly, the soccer team presented to Dr. Gorsuch a plaque honoring Mr. Roulette. Team Co-Captain Juan Cardenas delivered a touching speech. A standing ovation followed.

Full names, kickers, add to annual Class affords extra work time

Co-Editors-in-Chief Linda Minnich and Jon Macht designed the book and revised all material.

A NEW CLASS of yearbook journalism allowed Heiskelite staffers to work together for at least one hour each day. Co-Editors-in-Chief Linda Minnich and Jon Macht worked after school and weekends to supervise, correct, and organize the entire job. As a result, the '78 Heiskelite contains larger pictures, and more copy and color pages than ever.

Throughout the summer and school year, Picture Co-Editors Karen Schimmel and Gwen Richardson planned and coordinated picture days. Layout Co-Editors Emily Blumenthal and Judy Greenwald cropped pictures and designed pages. Copy Co-Editors Suzanne Miller and Sheridan Smith produced detailed paragraphs explaining activities, function of clubs, faculty departments, and classes. Sales Co-Managers Lisa Bowers, and Laurie Martin scheduled senior pictures, led the sales campaign, and arranged the senior directory. Art Editor Suzan Yumlu created sketches for divider pages and cover. Sports Co-Editors Laurie Slasman and David Slick compiled records.

During the summer, Mae Jacobs and Mike Bergschneider led sales in the successful advertising campaign. Business Editor Dixie Crossley attended to the assignment of paying bills and compiling the index. With persistency from Vicki Grove, Denise Goodnow, Peggy Harr, Brenda Unruh, Chris Smith, and helpers, headlines, captions, and sections materialized. All five printing deadlines were met successfully.

Adviser Barbara Taylor served the staff by answering questions, giving advice, and proofreading pages.

Art Editor Suzan Yumlu designed the artistic drawings.

Layout Co-Editors Judy Greenwald and Emily Blumenthal arranged pictures, cropped them, and drew master copies.

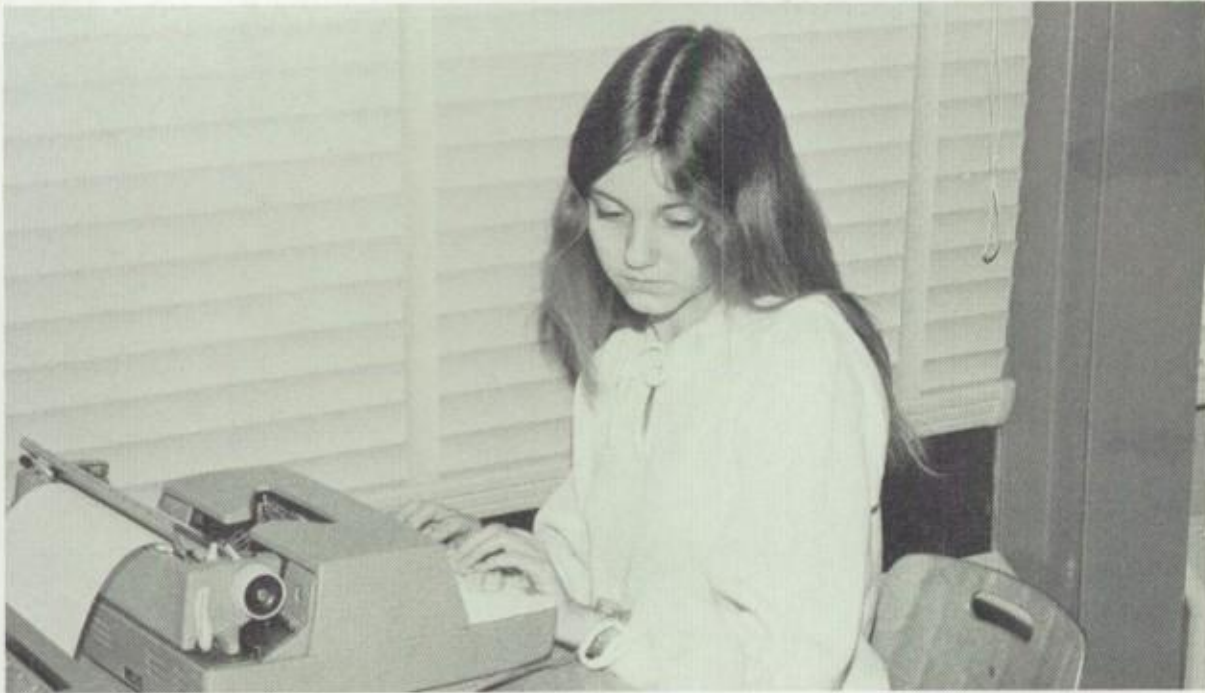

Picture ideas were created by Co-Editors Karen Schimmel and Gwen Richardson.

Informative summaries of organizations, activities, and faculty were written by Copy Co-Editors Sheridan Smith and Suzanne Miller.

Advertising campaign doubles '77 yearbook sales

Business Editor Dixie Crossley compiled the index and helped with typing.

1978 YEARBOOK STAFF began the year without the usual financial troubles since the summer advertising campaign doubled 1977 sales. However, all funds were necessary in order to finance the increased cost of production. The entire staff worked during the summer selling these advertisements, then helped sell yearbooks in homerooms during early fall. The price of a yearbook rose only slightly, and this was due to the higher 5% state sales tax rate. Most students purchased their books by paying the full price of $12.00 plus tax, but about 100 utilized the three-installment plan.

Patrons Co-Editors Mike Bergschneider and Mae Jacobs arranged the ads pages.

Senior Helpers Denise Goodnow, Peggy Harr, and Vicki Grove helped with writing headlines and captions, alphabetizing class pictures, and completing necessary typing.

Sales Co-Editors Lisa Bowers and Laurie Martin scheduled senior pictures, handled the senior directory, and sold 1,000 yearbook copies.

Sports Co-Editors Laurie Slasman and Dave Slick scheduled pictures and assisted the Myerlys'.

Annual changes in style and format

HOW CAN A yearbook staff put together a book that everyone likes? How can a year be covered through pictures and copy? How can the moods, feelings, and actions of students, faculty, and parents be captured? How can a picture of every student, club, organization, faculty member, athletic and social event become available to the staff and then organized in an eye-pleasing manner? Putting together a yearbook certainly is difficult!

Under the direction of Co-Editors Jon Macht and Linda Minnich, this annual has many progressive changes in ideas, format, and style. Process red, tangerine, process yellow, process blue, emerald green, and ruby red are all used as background colors in the opening and closing sections. The entire senior section appears in full color along with eight pages in the book's opening.

Divider pages, however, are black and white art work which continue the theme. One special effect is a steel engraving, on page 231. Pictures are large, and picture quality, especially sports action shots, is improved over past years, said the editors. Major typography changes include the use of first and last names and capitalization of the first three words of summaries. Also, editors attempted to name every person in every picture. Kickers and headlines were stressed to lead the reader into the copy.

Unique ideas include a story on school history on page 21. Pages 49-51 are comprised of baby pictures of seniors. Area hangouts are pictured on the last divider, page 213. In order to fully display the year, Hubs were asked to express their opinions. These are on pages 218-219. A complete summary of academics appears on pages 216-217 along with candid pictures of classes. Artistic work by Suzan Yumlu and Jon Macht improve the looks of the ads pages. Because editors took much time and effort, all school activities are described through more copy than ever.

Without the help of many professionals this yearbook would only be an idea. Myerly Photographers covered most events, then developed and printed most pictures. Mr. Larry Allen, Delmar Company printing representative, worked with the Co-Editors to plan all necessary production specifications.

"As Co-Editors, we hope that this book lives up to the expectations of everyone!" declared Linda and Jon enthusiastically.

Hub band travels to Daytona

Vice President Bruce Greenwald, President Alice Patterson, Secretary-Treasurer Amy Breza

NORTH'S 170-MEMBER BAND traveled to Daytona Beach, Florida to participate in concert and field competition at the Daytona Beach Music Festival. Before departing Florida, the group visited Walt Disney World.

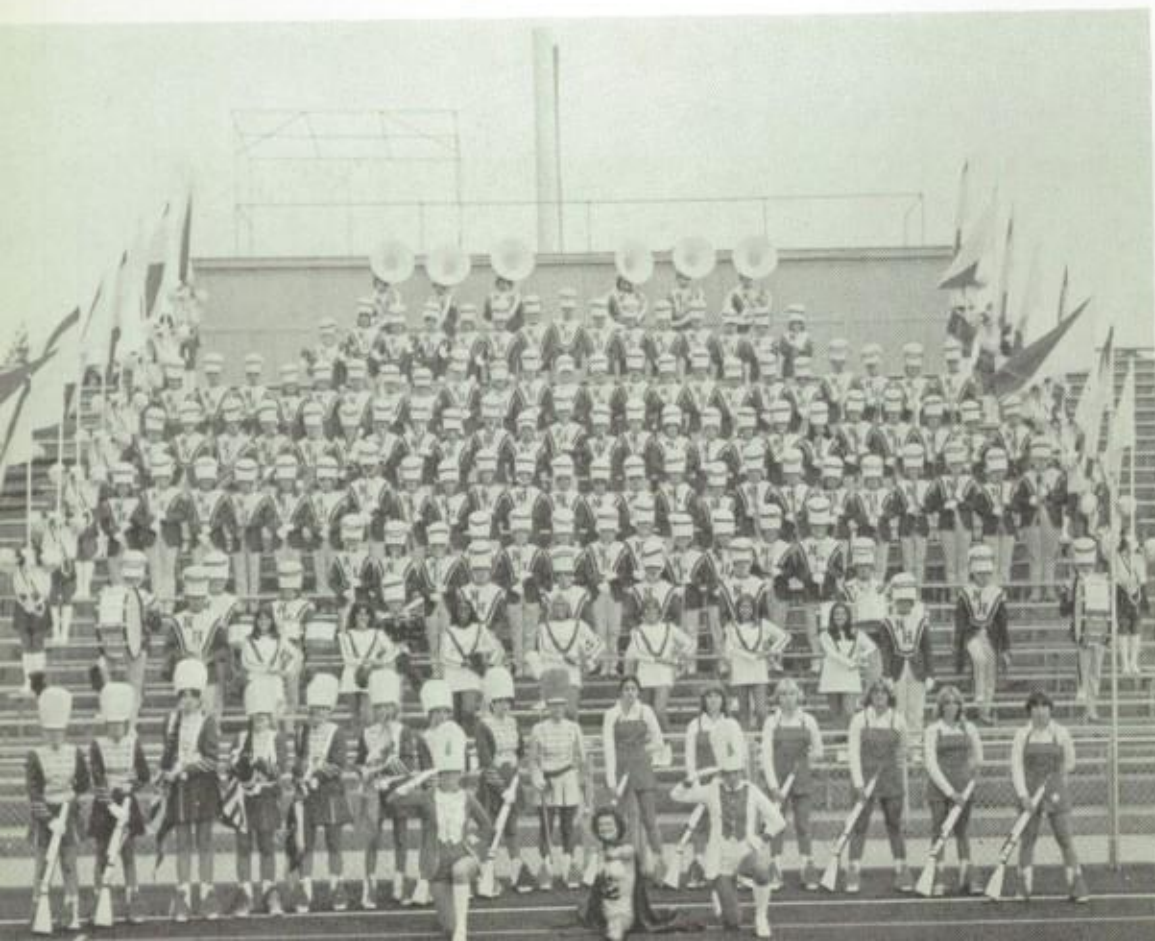

Fund raisers for the trip included sub sales, beef raffles, and a fruit sale.

On a rainy October 8, the Hub band tied for best state band, co-winning the Governor's Cup, at University of Maryland's Band Day.

Football halftime shows, planned by professional Morgan Bremmer, kept the spectators entertained to a new "Star Wars" medley.

During the winter and spring seasons, the concert band performed their annual concerts.

Rifle squad obtains new guns

WHILE ATTENDING A summer training camp, the rifle squad learned new spins, flips, and twirls. Captain Dawn Dawson reduced the squad to six members and two substitutes. Carrying new rifles with red tape, they were feature performers to "25 or 6 to 4." Junior squad members honored the seniors with carnations at Homecoming. The rifles accompanied the band to the Daytona festival April 26.

SIXTEEN FLAG GIRLS accented the band with their colorful movements. Karen Schimmel captained the squad, while Lisa Roby assumed co-captain duties. Although the number of alternates remained three, the nucleus of the flag squad increased by four members. In addition to performing halftime shows at home football games, the squad marched with the band in the Annual Mummies' parade. At Homecoming November 21, the girls executed a special routine to "Theme from 'Star Wars'."

UNDER THE LEADERSHIP of Captain Teresa Antill, who attended summer majorette camp at Shippenburg, and Co-captain Betty Lou Wolfe, majorettes accompanied the band in their field performances.

According to Teresa, a different routine was expected at each performance. Their featured display of twirling to "Theme From 'Rocky'" entertained spectators at the North-South pep assembly. New feature twirler Dana Langlotz added color with her acrobatics. The majorette squad sold key rings to raise funds for purchasing pom-poms.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEER-LEADERS sparked spectator enthusiasm. Girls were divided into squads for each sport except wrestling matches, where the cheering squads rotated. ## Varsity cheerleaders display new uniforms

Despite sub-zero temperatures, cheerleaders continue to spread spirit.

SPIRIT-SPREADING CHEER-LEADERS increased their overall number to 30.

In a new procedure, the girls signed up for squads in each different sport. Each girl was allowed to cheer one fall and one winter sport. This way cheerleaders worked no more than two nights a week.

They sponsored Homecoming activities, two football hops, and one spring hop.

Also, the girls had to sign a good behavior agreement the same as athletes. They were allowed one excused absence and three tardies before facing expulsion.

Personally made by Mrs. Thearle, 15 new cheerleaders' winter uniforms were completed at the end of January. All 30 will be ready next year. Then the varsity and J.V. squads will have the same color and style.

Student government petitions city government

PRESIDENT DAVID COOPER and new adviser Mr. Curtis Irion, with strong support from SGA members, students, administrators and faculty, spear-headed Northern Hospitality Night February 22. For student council, this was the major project for 1977-78.

Clubs and organizations set up displays of maps, books, merchandise from abroad, and other paraphernalia representing their various activities. Heiskelites set up a historical display of their 20 volumes. Hoo-Wair-N-Wat gave free February issues to the crowd. Parents and their eighth graders from Western Heights and North Potomac middle schools and area senior citizens joined North's faculty and students for the fest. School musicians performed on stage and in the gym. The school gave eight 1978-79 activity cards worth $12 each and a free copy of this year-book as door prizes to students.

SGA's second unique project was their petition to the city fathers to restore the Summer Sounds concerts at City Park this summer.

Beginning in September, the executive committee named an "outstanding student government representative of the month." In October and April, David Cooper, Bruce Greenwald, Dale Miller, and Jean Dozier attended the biannual MASC conventions. North hosted the first monthly WCASC meeting of the year in September, and sent nine delegates to each of the other monthly county meetings.

As usual, student council handled the Christmas and Sweethearts' dances, and selection of the Sweetheart Court, printing and sales of football programs, and underclass portrait-taking and sales.

Mr. Irion, new this year to North, became adviser in January a few weeks after Mr. Michael Sweeney, adviser since 1970, was named vice-principal at Boonsboro Middle School.

CO-PRESIDENTS Mona Bulpitt and Debbie Wagner headed an enthusiastic AFS chapter. With contributions from professionals and organizations, the club sponsored a very successful AFS Weekend October 28-30. December 18, they held a birthday celebration for their Brazilian exchange student Hélio Lippé.

On the spring agenda, the main activity was a short term exchange in which members traveled to other U. S. cities and towns for one week.

For the first time in six years, the chapter expected to participate in Bus-stop, a program which allowed foreign exchange students to view the country before their departure.

AFS weekends bring Helio many friends

HÉLIO LIPPÉ LEFT his homeland of Sao Paulo, Brazil to become North High's AFS exchange student. The Hart and Kotun families each welcomed Hélio into their homes during his stay. On December 31, 1977, Hélio joined the Kotun family after the George Hart family was transferred to Greensburg, Pennsylvania. He adjusted quickly to the changes in surroundings and encountered no problem making friends. Participation in AFS weekends in places such as Cumberland, Mercersburg, Pennsylvania, and Keyser, West Virginia, brought Hélio friends from the entire tri-state area. Hélio's family has been involved with AFS experiences before. His brother was an exchange student in Oregon and the family has also hosted an AFS student.

Hélio endeavored to conquer such classes as Medical Biology, American history, English, and Psychology. Since his interests also center around athletics he actively participated in soccer and tennis. Cold weather was a first for Hélio, as his native climate parallels that of Florida. A new-found love is skiing, which he hopes to do as much as possible.

Speaking at a PTSA meeting, Hélio expresses his feeling about being an exchange student.

DESPITE MANY EARLY problems, May 20, 1978 the junior class realized the numerous dreams and ideas which had stormed in their minds before they became the junior class.

Class leaders last year chose Prom Co-Chairmen Dale Miller and Susan Statton to direct and advise prom preparations this year. Class leaders picked committee chairmen at that time also. The theme, "Olympus — Home of the Gods" was selected during the summer.

Total cost slightly exceeded $3000. Changes in administration, heavy snow, and questions concerning the use of the gym hindered progress; but difficulties were forgotten in the excitement of prom night.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT VISIBLY captured Junior Exchangers. To benefit the less fortunate and elderly of the Hagerstown vicinity, club members executed a canned food drive. In this way, they lent a helping hand to Mrs. Haven Hoffman alias Mrs. Santa Claus.

In the fall, club members helped Hagerstown Exchange Club produce "Madcaps," the local, annual talent show whose proceeds finance civic service projects.

ON A CHILLY October 21, distribution of sashes and carnations initiated the Homecoming ceremony. Brisk air did not hinder the girls' spirited car caravan from the school to the crosstown athletic field.

Watching the game on the sidelines, the girls awaited halftime and the announcement of which would be queen. The girls were announced and escorted by Allen Russell, Fred Hiser, Gracson Bell, and Hélio Lippé. Jamie Brown was named queen and crowned.

Each senior football player asked a senior girl of his choice to the after-game dance; those girls comprised the 16-member Homecoming court. Seniors secretly voted for the queen. Cheerleaders sponsored all Homecoming events.

After the game, clubs and organizations presented gifts to Homecoming King Jim Acre and Queen Jamie. After the royal couple's traditional dance, several hundred students, alumni, and friends also danced to music provided by "Brothers Across the Track."

Snow forces postponement of dance

TWO INCHES OF SNOW dumped by an unexpected storm forced postponement of the Sweethearts' Dance from Saturday, February 18, until Sunday, February 19. Nevertheless, the night warmed the hearts of the many in attendance. Couples danced to the sounds of the local "Long Time Comin'," who played top hits and disco.

Foil-covered cardboard hearts containing valentine candy decorated tables. Cupids with names of senior couples adorned the walls of the gymnasium.

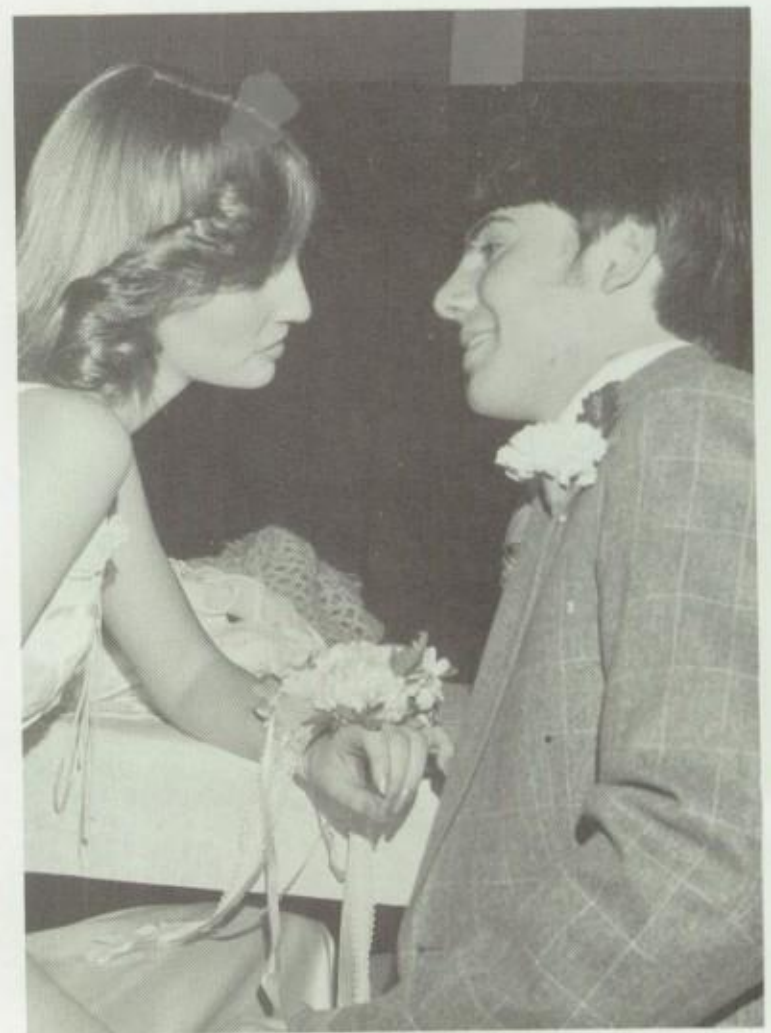

Preceding the dance, a student government nominating committee selected eleven senior girls to comprise the sweethearts' court. Each nominee then chose her own senior escort. The senior class voted to determine the winner, and the outcome remained a secret until the awaited moment.

At the climax of the evening, Peggy Harr and Kent Stouffer were crowned king and queen.

Diligent juniors pomp towering Taj Mahal.

IN ORDER TO fulfill the promise of an unforgettable evening, juniors spent endless hours building structures, painting murals, and pumping various items. Murals committee stationed themselves at Trinity Lutheran, while contruction occurred at the old Psillas Company building. As the year progressed, "Around the World in Eighty Days" evolved into a collection of souvenirs which included an 18'x8' balloon centerpiece. In addition to co-chairmen Judy Greenwald and Rick Harrison, remaining committee chairmen were Kristi Light and Jean Dozier, greenery; Sally Sensenbaugh and Teresa Antill, invitations; Mona Bulpitt and Sheridan Smith, refreshments; Gwen Richardson and Laurie Slasman, centerpieces; Tom Radcliffe and Eric Higgins, construction; and Harlan Woodward, Melinda Wagner, and Lisa Yeager, murals.

Prom centers around 18-foot balloon

COUPLES EXPERIENCED THEIR own journey "Around the World in Eighty Days," last May 21. Beginning with a stroll through London Park, they entered the reform club, a gentleman's place of assembly. Picturesque murals of a balloon flying over the Alps, the market-place in Suez, and a cowboy and Indian fight on a train made up part of the scenery surrounding the dance floor. A French café, an English blue and white gazebo, an Egyptian pyramid, and a Chinese rickshaw decorated the four corners. The wood-framed Taj Mahal, pumped with white and pink tissue paper, towered over the bandstand vibrating to the sounds of "Hard Cider." In the center an 18-foot multicolored balloon twinkled with tiny lights. When the clock struck midnight, the long-awaited event faded in memory.

J.V.'s suffer eight game winless season

Joe Weeks runs corner to score against cross town rivals.

IT TAKES A special person to make a commitment to a football team, but that's exactly the type of men who comprised the Junior Varsity. According to one coach, they were a close knit group who played to their ability but not beyond. Coach Harry Fogle and assistant coach Curtis Irion agree that "next year as varsity players their season looks hopeful." With quarterback Joe Weeks at the helm, points were scored behind the blocking of Andy Serafini, Mike Wollard, and Daryl Leazier. Many close games were lost, but the J.V.'s possess the desire and willingness to achieve victories, said Fogle.

Disappointing 3-7 season marked by injuries

WHETHER THE HUBS would win a game was questionable when the 1977 season opened. Lack of depth at all positions, and fewer returning lettermen than any school in either the Tri-State or C.V.A.L. leagues faced Coach Walter Galbraith. Gridders surprised everyone when they defeated the powerful Lackey Chargers 13-0. Despite three controversial officials' decisions working against the Hubs, the team fought back against Martinsburg only to lose in the last 38 seconds. Guard Tom Flook and Senior center Rick Harrison were injured at Martinsburg, with Harrison lost for the season. In addition, Victor Fowlkes received a wrist injury soon after the Martinsburg game.

North was handed three successive defeats at the hands of Allegany, Waynesboro, and Fort Hill; all three teams were overwhelming. According to Coach Galbraith, the losses of Harrison, the largest lineman; Flook, a starting linebacker; and Fowlkes, the top ball carrier, caused team morale to fall, resulting in the three setbacks. However, with the return of the injured, and a desire to overcome humiliation, the team defeated Thomas Johnson 13-12, in the upset of the season. Coach Galbraith stated, "The kids played super ball the rest of the season. In the last five games, with a break we could have been winners." Although the team lost another close ball game to Westminster, 14-7, the Hubs outplayed them in every statistical category.

Following a loss to a "huge" South Carroll team, 6-0, the gridders tromped Frederick 28-7, as they broadened the running game and threw more passes. Against South Hagerstown, the team made costly errors. On the last play before the half, South scored on a 60 yard pass play. Hubs played an inspired second half; however, unable to put enough points on the board, they lost to intra-city rival South 9-6.

In this, his last season, Coach Galbraith stated, "This team gave as much effort as any team I've ever coached." At the fall sports awards assembly, team captains Rory Sandberg and Perry Miller presented Coach Galbraith with a plaque of recognition for his service as a coach.

J.V.'s win first game in team's history

WHEN SOCCER WAS established at North by Mr. Glinis Ditto and Mr. John Ingram, a coach was needed. Mr. Hugo Cardenas acted as adviser for the soccer club until it became a varsity sport three years ago. After two years of retirement, Mr. Cardenas took on the role as Coach Cardenas. Summer practice consisted of developing skills, maneuvers, and, in many instances, preparing the J.V. booters for the "Most exhausting game, because there is no rest and constant running," according to Cardenas.

The first three games resulted in losses. The team made history on home field by beating St. Maria Goretti, 3-0, in adverse conditions to become the first J.V. soccer team to win a game. Rain and freezing cold made the game "like playing in another world," stated one player. Chris Ageson, Arlington Horine, and Paul Stamm held opponents to 12 points while Mike Bender, Jim Chapa, Steve Cardenas, and Fred Cunningham aided the cause by scoring 14 goals for the offense. "The team will lose at least five players to varsity; but because it is becoming such a popular sport, a larger turnout is expected next year," concluded Coach Cardenas. The team finished with three wins, four losses, and one tie.

Soccer team breaks single season scoring record

AFTER THE DEATH of Mr. David Roulette, Mr. John Davidson became the varsity soccer coach. With the season's arrival, the team decided to wear black armbands in memory of their deceased coach.

Booters got off to a slow start; but after a few changes in the starting lineup, goals came more easily. Juan Cardenas and Aaron Kendall were high scorers for the team. Tighter defensive play by Mike Fahey, Harlan Woodward, Mike Jenkins, and John Seburn helped the team to turn the season around.

In the opening game against South High, the student body supported the team even though the Rebeles out-scored the Hubs 9-3.

Charging admission to games throughout the season helped to pay for the goal nets that were stolen and destroyed.

After the first Williamsport game, all five of the team's losses were by one goal. Well-executed strategic play resulted in victories over Williamsport and Saint Maria Goretti High School. The Hubs avenged an earlier defeat by beating South on their own field 1-0.

The team scored 24 goals to break the previous record of 21 in a single season.

The team ended the season with three wins and seven losses.

Harriers finish thirteenth in state

"ENDURANCE, CONCENTRATION, AND inner motivation are essential basics of a good cross country runner," stated Coach Patrick Messina. With the objective of running three miles in the fastest possible time, team members prepared for races by covering two to twelve miles daily. Harriers Dwight Eichelberger, Richard Oliver, and "T" Thomas led the boys' team to a 7-3 season.

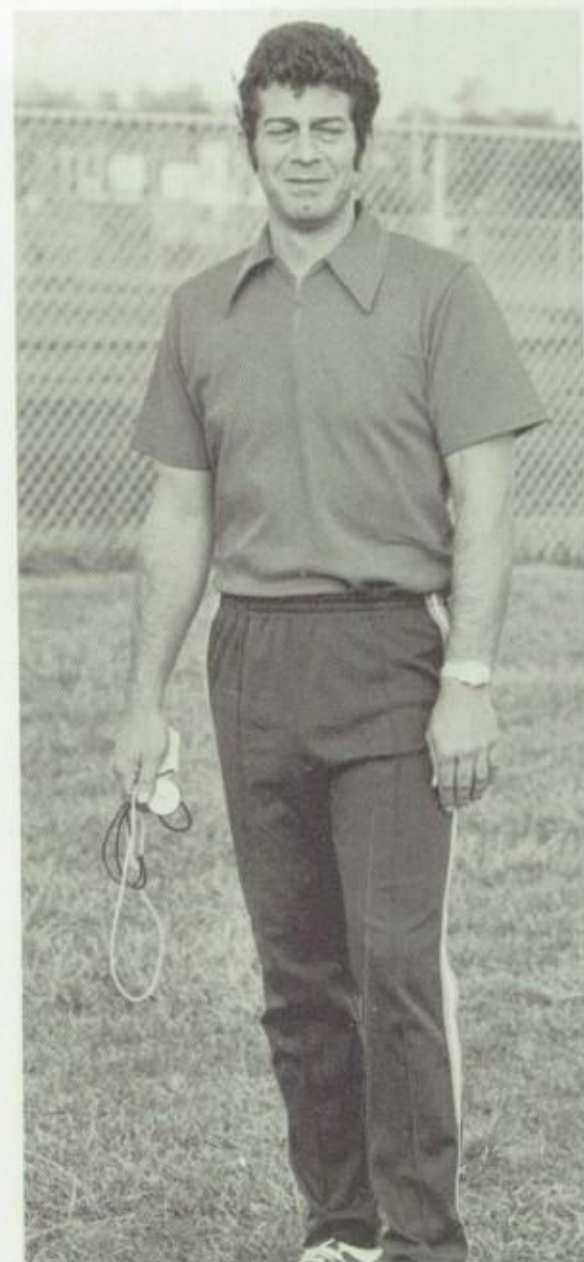

Each meet, five runners competed for the team. According to the order in which he finished, a runner was awarded a point value corresponding to his finish in the race. Point values were totaled and the team with the lowest score won.

Harriers finished well in district competition, claiming first place. In the State meet, Hubs finished thirteenth of 33 of the best teams in the state. With his best race of the year, sophomore Jeff Scuffins finished thirty-first of 186 runners.

North cross country gains girls' team

WOMEN TOOK ANOTHER step forward at North with the addition of the girls' cross country team. Coach Patrick Messina stated, "Almost all school are getting girls' teams."

Runoffs, held a day or two before each meet, qualify the first seven girls for the upcoming meet. Girls not qualifying, nevertheless, were allowed to run the two-mile course.

Amy Breza and Suzie Ables fought for the number one spot. Susan Wantz clung to third position, and Jenny Booth and Shawn Mountcastle battled for fourth.

Though competition came to the girls from Waynesboro which has had a girls' team for two years, North was victorious, 26-33. Other strong competition came from Boonsboro where the Hubettes lost by a slim 27-28 margin. Seasonal record was three wins and two losses.

Districts brought the girls a fourth place among six teams. Also, in Tri-State and C.V.A.L., North was able to gain third and second places respectively.

Suzie Abeles was the only girl who qualified for state competition. She placed forty-third among 110 runners.

Despite the girls' lack of experience, Coach Messina added, "The girls look promising."

Girls end regular season undefeated

AN UNDEFEATED REGULAR season proved the girls' ability in volleyball. In interschool competition, the girls played the best of five games to determine the overall winner of any match. Using a "bump-set-and-spike" strategy, the girls lost only one game in all regular season matches.

The starting lineup consisted of setters Jean Dozier and Susann Miguel and spikers Diane Wagner, Diana Hicks, Kathy Parsons, and Cheryl Weaver. Also, Linda Hawbaker, Denise Krytenberg, and Heather Scott added strength in relief of starters. Because of the number of graduating seniors, the team rotated captains at each game.

The Hubettes traveled to Allegany for the C.V.A.L. tournament, but lost to host Allegany. Also, the team competed in regional play at Chesapeake High School where they lost to the Maryland State Champions.

According to Coach Diana Christian, "Teams at regionals spiked much harder than we were accustomed to."

Senior Jean Dozier stated, "The teams are more advanced at districts; volleyball is just beginning to grow as a sport in our area."

Success of the team can be attributed to dedication from all team members; all players practiced one and one-half hours daily, according to Coach Christian. She stated that she was pleased with the 11-0 season and foresees a strong team for next year.

Frosh score 73 points against Patriots

IN THEIR FIRST year of competition, freshmen concluded the season with five wins and seven losses.

Although below a .500 season, Coach Greg Rouse stated he believed the team was successful. "I measure success when every boy gives 100% during the games," said Coach Rouse.

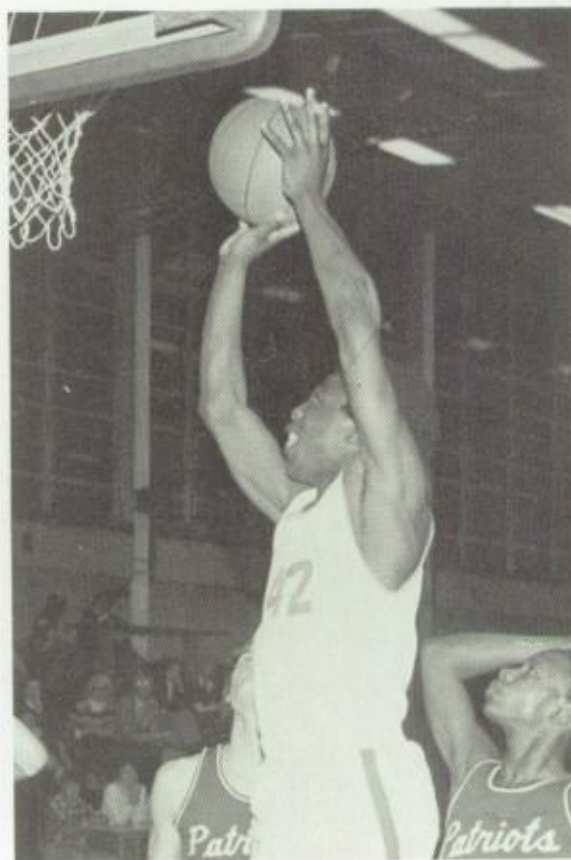

Many games were hard fought as shown by the one point loss to the Rebels. According to one team member another game against Martinsburg where North lost by only two points. In their second matchup against Frederick, freshmen overcame the Cadets by one. Although the team scored 73 points for their record high game of the season, T.J. scored 80 markers defeating the rookies.

Through the season, Marshall Branch led the offense and scored an average of 14 points per game. Strong rebounding by Desmar Becton and stingy defense by Bill Nutter and Brian Hardin provided for an exciting season. Dean Knode, John Ambrose, and Bryson Hart dazzled opponents with their ball handling.

Coach Rouse, also a teacher at Western Heights Middle School, expressed that the team improved overall and, if not for the two cancelled games at the end of the year, the team would have had a winning season.

Showing their improvement in the final game, the frosh destroyed Smithsburg 49-32, to whom North lost earlier in the season, 34-38.

Junior Varsity surprises South 44-43

"EVEN THOUGH THINGS weren't going our way, the kids came back every ball game and played as hard as they could," stated Coach Robert Beard. J.V.'s were small and inexperienced, which accounts for the poor 5-15 record. In addition, the Russian flu which spread through the student body, removed physical stamina needed for such a small team.

Throughout the season the team played a deliberate, methodical strategy. The disciplined offense which worked for the "high percentage shot" caused games to be low scoring.

Against South Carroll and Martinsburg the team lost by a total of four points. However, the strategy worked against South, as the highly-favored Rebels were defeated 44-43.

"These kids gave more than any other team I've coached. They never quit on me. All fifteen players gave 100% of themselves in games and in practices. All fifteen deserve that recognition," said Coach Beard. Consistent game play came from Mike Wollard, Joey Weeks, Todd Hill, Todd Rideout, and Mike Thomas. "At the beginning of the season, I stated that I wanted to be competitive. We, as a team, accomplished that goal. As these players develop and mature, North High will see exciting basketball on the varsity level," concluded Coach Beard.

Hubs battle through losing season

WITH THE APPROACHING basketball season, sports writers gave the Hubs little chance of a winning record. After an opening loss to city champion St. Maria Goretti, 56-61, the Hubs struggled to gain the confidence needed for the upcoming games.

Steve Reynolds, Roger Wollaston, and Victor Fowlkes all began the season recovering from football injuries. Although injury ridden and lacking depth, the team defeated Allegany and Williamsport twice.

The second game against Goretti proved exciting as the Hub loss was determined by a last second buzzer shot. An ensuing free throw with time out resulted in the final score of 50-53.

In the first matchups against Frederick, South Carroll, and Thomas Johnson, the Hubs were outmanned and did not play together as a team. Finding the right combination of players allowed the team to defeat Westminster and Waynesboro twice and South once. In the last game of the season, senior Rory Sandberg scored a career-high 31 points. The team put it all together to score 90 points total.

Although the team ended with a 9-11 record, the Hubs played well-executed basketball in rematches against Frederick, Martinsburg, and South. Against Frederick, North held a team averaging 85 points a game to 38 points and lost by only two points. Reynolds, Sandberg, Randy Brooks, Poochie Lewis, and Chris Pappas all played scrapy basketball. When Martinsburg came to town, the team stayed even with their opponents and only lost by a shot at the buzzer.

The first crosstown game proved evenly matched with North holding a slim lead the entire game. Mistakes in the fourth quarter led to the eight point loss for the Hubs. According to Coach Brown, Wollaston played his best basketball of the season and helped inspire the team. In the second game, the Hubs dominated entirely. Strong efforts by Sandberg, Fowlkes, Reynolds, Brooks, and Wollaston contributed to the win.

Although the team played inconsistently, they provided supporters with many exciting games. Leadership was given by point guard Fowlkes. Sandberg was a consistent high scorer and "clutch shooting talent." Reynolds played strong inside games and out-rebounded opponents who were as much as four inches taller. Lewis, Brooks, Gracson Bell, and Donnie Davis proved to tough enough competition for league opponents.

"Toward the end of the season, Hubs put on a streak when each person understood what he had to contribute to the team," said Coach Jim Brown.

Steve Magaha, Kenny Shanholtz, Greg McLucas, Gary Thomas, and Jon Craver worked as hard in practice as any who played, said Brown.

With an impressive season end, Hubs qualified for District play. North took on the tough Thomas Johnson Patriots. Although the netters made only 29 percent of their shots, an aggressive defense kept the game close. With one quarter to play, the Hubs trailed by only three points. However T.J.'s Page Elliott scored fifteen points in the final stanza to defeat North 57-49. Lewis played his best basketball of the year as he scored fifteen points and grabbed thirteen rebounds. "The opportunity was there; we just did not play well enough to win," said Coach Brown.

Brown wraps-up regular season in triumph

ON THE NIGHT of his final North-South confrontation, February 17, the school paid tribute to Coach Jim Brown. His first Co-captain, Tom Parsons ('71), and Co-captains Rory Sandberg ('78), and Victor Fowlkes ('78), presented him a team autographed game basketball.

Brown came to North from Hancock High School in 1966. He already had posted 105 wins and three state tournament visits to Cole Field House, College Park, Maryland.

During his tenure as head basketball coach, beginning in November of 1970, Brown's teams sported an overall record of 126-51 for a 71 percent win average. They set a school record 22 game win streak lasting from January 4, 1972, through December 29, 1972; a 25 game Tri-State League win span; 4 TSL championships (1971, 1972, 1975, 1977); the 1972 State Class A Championship; and 1977 State Class A Runner-up. All Brown-coached teams except two won 15 or more games. "The thing which made us the best in the conference was discipline. The difference between this year's team and other winning teams was a lack of discipline. However, I was pleased with the team down the stretch. In the second half of the season they came back even though they were down," said Brown.

"Coach Jim Brown gave his expertise, enthusiasm, and tireless energy to bring North many moments of exciting basketball," added J.V. Coach Robert Beard.

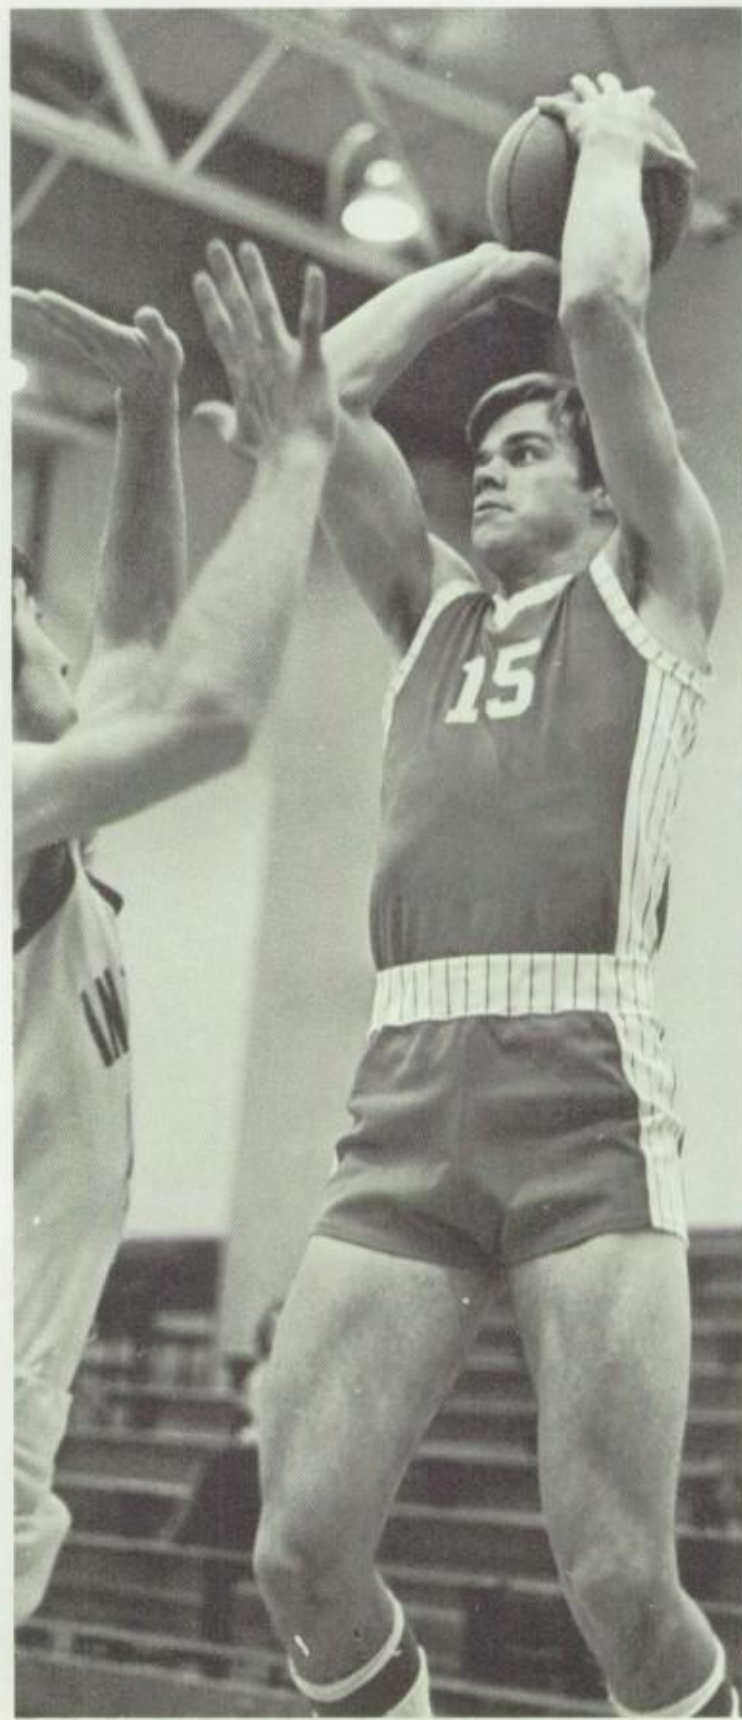

North saluted him for his personal sacrifices which taught his players discipline, respect, and good sportsmanship.

Prior to his last home game Feb. 17, Jim Brown receives tribute for dedication as a coach.

Junior Varsity girls split with South

UNDER COACH JANIS Angle, Junior Varsity girls pulled a 9-9 record, despite setbacks. Early in the season four players quit; but top performances came from Amy Breza and Suzy Abeles, who led the team in lay-ups. Also Breza showed a good set shot from the foul-line distance. Christy Butts, forward, rebounded an average of 12 times a game. Good back-up came from Terri Goodnow, Donna Shanholtz, and Lynne Davis.

"Team cooperation helped offensively because the players were aware of their teammates on the floor," Coach Angle stated. Along with cooperation came improvement. "I think all the girls improved, some more than others. They have all learned to work together, so substituting players fit in well," she remarked.

The J.V.'s first victory came at Thomas Johnson when the Patriots were knocked down, 38-24. The first home-played game against Boonsboro brought the girls a second block-buster win, 46-26.

North-South games were split with a win at home, 33-28, and a loss away, 27-23. Miss Angle said she had nothing to complain about and concluded that "The J.V. girls are a good group to work with, even though there was a small number of team members. The girls kept their enthusiasm throughout the entire season."

Hubettes advance to state tournament

"I BELIEVE THEY are the nicest and best team that I've ever coached," stated Head Coach Diana Christian.

The Hubettes under Tri-Captains Diana Hicks, Shawn Mountcastle, and Diane Wagner led their team to a 17-1 regular season record and a Class A Maryland State Runnerup Crown.

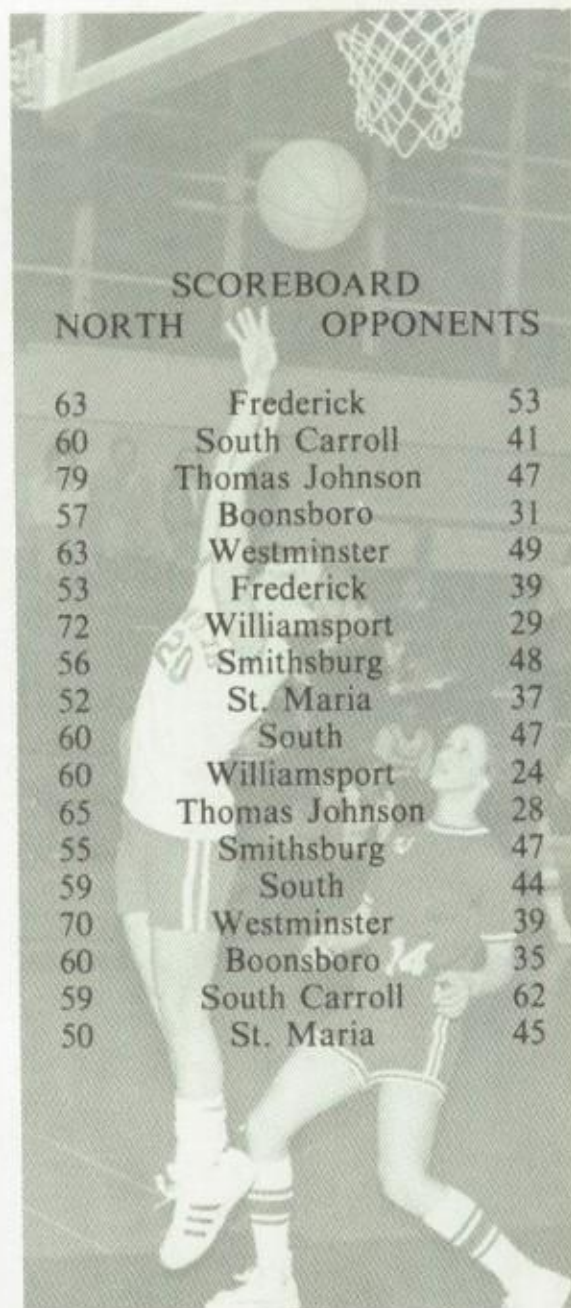

With Mountcastle at point guard, Hicks and Kathy Parson adding 18 and 21 points per game respectively, and Wagner and Susann Miguel contributing to a team rebounding average of 33 per game, Hubettes dominated most opponents. Strong competition came to the girls from South Carroll and Smithsburg. The regular season loss to South Carroll in double overtime, 59-62, ended a string of three undefeated regular season campaigns. According to Coach Christian, the loss can be attributed to seven of the twelve team members battling the Russian flu which spread over the student body.

"The first Smithsburg matchup was the toughest game mentally because of the pressure on us, and we didn't know what to expect," said Tri-Captain Wagner. But the game brought the girls a 58-46 victory.

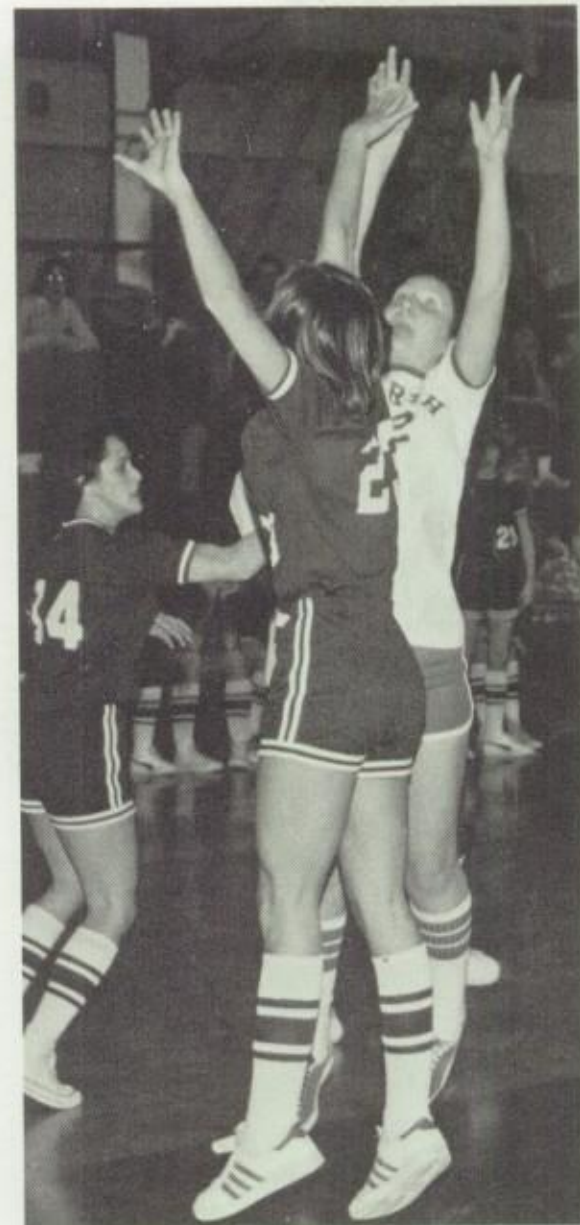

Hubettes netted both North-South games as Kathy Parson scored a career high 32 points in the second showdown. This pushed her scoring total to 845 for 2½ years of play.

Upon completion of the regular season, the girls defeated Thomas Johnson 77-33, and Lock Raven 55-42, to advance to the Maryland State tournament. In the first round of play, the girls slipped past a sound Seneca Valley team from Montgomery County 74-62. This gave the team confidence since they had been eliminated the previous two years in the first round. However, North dropped the title game to South Carroll in the finals, 54-56. Kathy Parson led all scorers with 27 points.

"It was a tough way to lose, but I'm proud of all the girls for what they accomplished," said Christian. At the winter awards assembly, the school showed their appreciation as the girls received a standing ovation from much of the crowd.

Wrestlers finish 10-2, best in history

"EVERY MATCH WE won because of total team effort. We pinned our opponents and we stayed off our backs," Head Coach Harry Fogel stated after the final match of the season against Liganore, Feb. 9. Victory over the Lancers concluded a highly successful 10-2 season. Only three times in the year could any school score 20 points on the grapplers. In most matches the Hubs took seven or eight of the twelve weight classes, and many matches were clinched before the 167-weight class.

The first disappointment of the season came when Westminster brought their own crowd to fill North's gym and the Owls handed the Hubs their first dual match loss of the season, 26-20.

North, however, had won their first five matches, including the first North-South match when North defeated the favored Rebels, 31-17. The first Hub-Rebel encounter did not count in the Tri-State league but the second matchup did. By then, North was tied for third place with Westminster; South was tied with Waynesboro for first. Again the Rebels were favored; again the Hubs handed them a loss.

In the next to final match of the season against Martinsburg, the Hubs granted the Bulldogs only one match, which gave North a 51-3 decision.

Slick and Ryan advance to States

What was supposed to be a building year for wrestling turned out to be the most successful season in school history.

Six seniors lost to graduation in '77 didn't hurt the team as most expected. The balanced lineup consisted of five seniors, five juniors, and two sophomores. In the first bout of the season, 105-pound senior Joe Rutherford pinned his opponent to start the team on its way.

North placed six wrestlers in the finals of the C.V.A.L. tournament Dec. 16-17. John Arsenault and David Slick claimed firsts while Russell Freeman, Scott Ryan, Glenn Lindman, and Jack Veneziano finished second.

In the Tri-State tournament Feb. 3-4, the Hubs sent Arsenault, Ryan, and Slick into the finals where they all topped the only opponents who had previously beaten them during the season. In the tournament North scored 107½ points, more than twice as many points as any previous North team. Also, the team broke the record of two individual champions set in 1972.

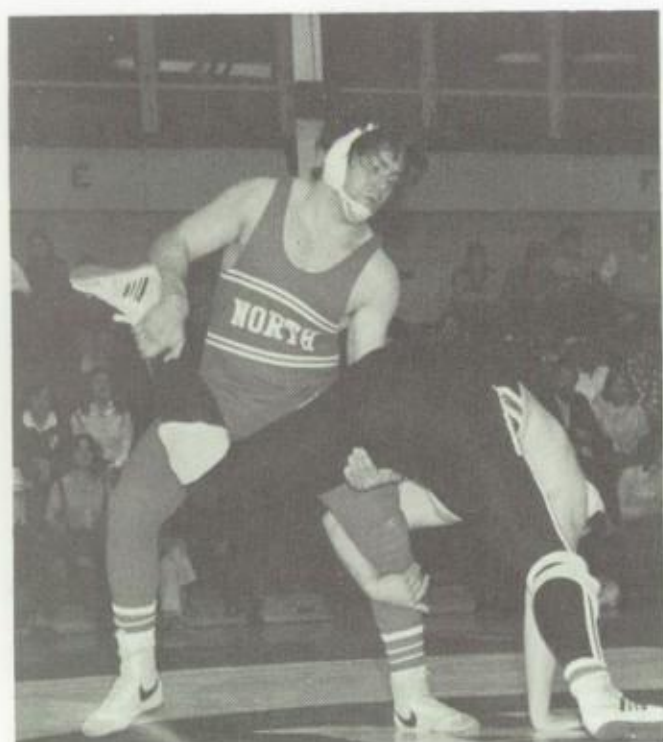

Arsenault with a season record of 16-1-1 along with Slick, 17-1-0, earned firsts in the District I tournament to advance to Regionals. Also advancing to Regionals were Ryan who placed third and John Ollen who traveled as an alternate. Ryan defeated the District I Champion in his weight class to finish second in the Region and along with Slick, qualified for the state tournament.

Weightlifters defeat Francis Scott Key

BUILDING UP SIZE and strength is what weightlifting is about. An all-year sport, different boys participated on an in and out basis, according to the particular sporting season. Usually, an average of 35 men worked out every other day, and some year-round, since a summer program was also available.

Lifters follow an exercise routine of deep knee bends, behind the neck presses, curls, dead lifts, and sit-ups. The entire workout takes about an hour.

Along with the program, weightlifters follow a good diet. "This is more important to weightlifting than in any other sport," stated coach Gary Knepper.

North's lifters went against Francis Scott Key in a February contest. A nine-man team was chosen on the basis of body weight and lifting ability. Richard Henry, Rick Cable, Arnold Vincent, Jeff Peticca, Gary Hartwick, Sonny Potts, Dan Brougher, Hershel Hershberger, and John Huff made the squad.

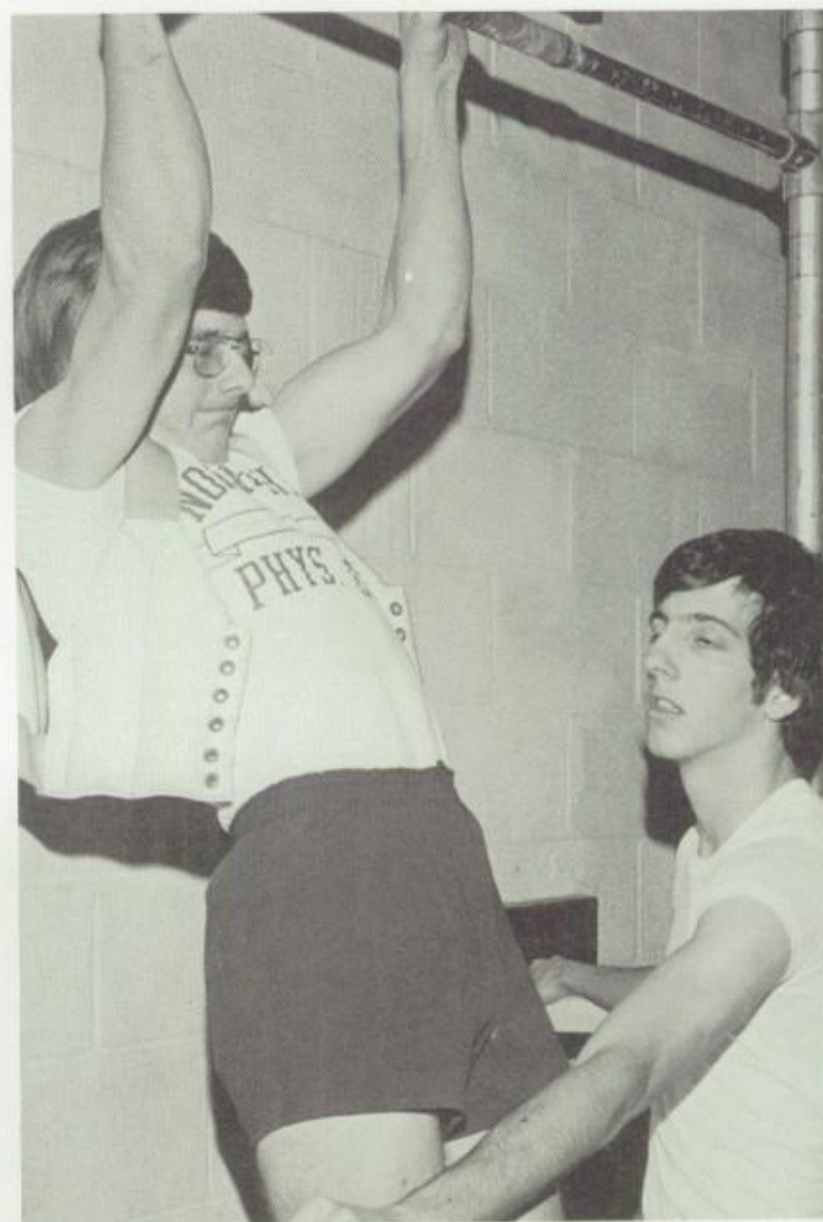

Coach Knepper pointed out, "The victor is determined by the most weight lifted per pounds of bodyweight based on the average bodyweight of each team."

Dean Wastler, Matt Smith, Mike Jenkins and Ron Hoover rounded out the team. Seniors Rick Manspeaker and Dave Hartwick were unable to make the state meet competition. Rick Fahrney delivers strike.

Coach Chuck Zonis and Coach Bill Owens intently watch game.

"A BUILDING YEAR in '77 for the batmen should prove beneficial to the '78 team," stated head coach Chuck Zonis. With only three returning players, inexperience was the key factor for an unsuccessful season. Senior Brian Tedrick proved to be a power in the offense, as he hit numerous homeruns. Senior Rick Fahrney did an excellent job of pitching with Tom Hutzell and John Huff as his relief and Bob West behind the plate. Juniors Scott Galbraith, Rick Rideout, Milton Hart, and Keith Dixon started first string for the Hubs. Galbraith and sophomores Roger Wollaston and Gary Thomas won honors by making second team for the Tri-State. The team completed the season with 4 wins and 14 losses.

THE TRACK TEAM made use of the driver ed range and cross country course while the new all-weather track was still under construction. Girls team stretches before an important meet.

THE GIRL'S TRACK team had a winning year, despite construction work on the track. All school records were broken at the team runner-up in the county meet at Smithsburg. Placing third at Thomas Johnson, the team sent ten members to states. Senior shotputter Jo-Ellen Taylor, junior hurdler Karen Nelson, sophomore sprinter Stephanie Robinson, and freshman long distance runner Cindy Hardin contributed greatly to the success of the team.

THE '77 TENNIS year had both its ups and downs. With a total team effort, the squad was able to chalk up a 2-2 season for dual matches. The boys came through exceedingly well with an 8-4 record while the girls lost close matches to end up with two wins. The number one man, sophomore John Frank, returned to states for his second consecutive year. Pacing the way for the girls were Debbie Baillie and Laurie Slasman playing singles and the outstanding doubles team of Jean Dozier and Becky Hohman.

New administrators adjust to North

Principal

"AS A PRINCIPAL I have an overall responsibility for the school," expressed Dr. Robert Allan Gorsuch, who became North's new principal in July.

Instituting new policies, coordinating administration, and handling personnel were some of his responsibilities.

Several new Board of Education policies had to be administered. Limited fundraising, because of misunderstandings, stirred controversy, as did the stricter county-adopted attendance policy.

The key to the structure of North, according to Dr. Gorsuch, is the master schedule. Curriculum changes had to coordinate with the schedule, as did student activities and athletics.

Implementing no major changes during the year, Dr. Gorsuch became accustomed to North's systems, enforced guidelines, and studied future changes.

Dr. Gorsuch gained administrative experience as vice-principal of Chestertown Middle School in his native Kent County. He earned his D. Ed. in educational administration at University of Maryland in 1976. He and his wife have two children.

Vice-Principal

VICE-PRINCIPAL MRS. Jane Guyton was another new administrator to North.

Because she had been accustomed to teaching a six-period day, Mrs. Guyton adapted to a not-so-smooth schedule as she said she had expected. She managed instructional material, substitute teachers, supported policies, and assumed Dr. Gorsuch's role during his absences from the building.

"I miss meeting students, but I do meet some in cross corridors during lunch hour," expressed Mrs. Guyton.

Mrs. Guyton and the administration, with three new members, carried over from last year's programming and implemented changes.

Committee meetings, programs, and students activities kept Mrs. Guyton busy during and after school. Also on her busy schedule was a graduate course and family responsibilities.

Her husband actively supports North, too, since both their sons attend the school.

ACADEMICS

THE SCHOOL CURRICULUM expanded in order to more adequately fulfill the needs of the student body. Faculty reorganized their departments to provide a better selection of courses and interesting materials. Freedom of choice encouraged students to explore new possibilities for their schedules. Although certain requirements restricted them somewhat, most pupils found that they were able to choose several options yearly. Ten extra minutes of each period afforded by last year's change to a six-period day allowed for more intense study.

As of June, 1979, the state will require secondary school graduates to possess twenty credits. Throughout his years in high school, a student must have taken four years of gym or physical activity, two years of mathematics, three years of social studies, two years of science, and four years of English. Participation in some type of sport during the summer or school year exempts a person from a physical education requirement.

Freshmen found that almost their entire schedule was mapped out for them. In addition to the imperative English, a physical education, and a U.S. Studies, many selected biology, a math course, a language, or another subject. Math possibilities included Math I, Introduction to Algebra, Algebra I, and Geometry. Freshmen expecting later to enter the business world took Introduction to Business.

Sophomores were granted the opportunity for a more diverse schedule. Courses such as Chemistry, Botany, World Cultures, Spanish, French, Latin, Algebra, Geometry, Algebra II-Trigonometry, and Drivers Education attracted the attention of the majority. During the year, band Orchestra, chorus, art, home economics, and industrial arts classes appeared on more schedules. Some who exhibited writing ability in the ninth grade entered Journalism I. The business student's curriculum consisted of elements of typewriting, business math, and Business English I.

Upon entrance into the upperclass ranks, juniors discovered additional courses available to them. Scholastic students attempted physics, Twentieth Century U.S. History or History of Europe. In English they experienced a new system offering different mini-courses each marking period. Such courses included Compass I, II, III, and IV; Research Basics; Multiple-Paragraphing; Grammar; Mythology; Speech; Mass Media; History of Cinema; and Shakespeare's Comedies. The Business Department taught Personal Typing, Accounting I, Clerical Lab I, Secretarial Science Lab I, and Business English II.

Most seniors, having reached the top of the pyramid, eased off in order to fully enjoy their final year. Some, however, decided to try to conquer Advanced Physics, Medical Biology, or calculus. Personal Typing, Accounting II, Clerical Lab III, Secretarial Science Lab II, and Personal Typing with Notehand composed the business offerings. Newspaper and yearbook staffers included Journalism II or Yearbook Journalism in their schedules.

Work or educational release involved more students than ever. Through these programs, a student attended school half the day, then studied at Hagerstown Junior College or worked a part-time job.

"The changes in curriculum are confusing to those that are accustomed to the old system. Students are having to reevaluate their future plans and course requirements for graduation." — Sophomore Brian Saur

"A very interesting year. A year of adjustment and understanding." — Coach James Brown

"Throughout the year, school spirit has increased on the part of students. During spirit week, more work was put into hall decorations than any other year, showing school togetherness." — Junior Linda Forrest

"Except for a ten and two wrestling season, this year was rotten." — Senior Glenn Lindman

"I have enjoyed most of my four years even though there have been some changes that have made things difficult for other students." — Senior Serena Bell

CANDID COMMENTS

"It was a nice year. I'm glad I'll be here the next three." — Freshman Merci Keyes

"This year, everyone seems to have a better attitude and outlook for the future of North High." — Sophomore Patty Starsinic

"I can't say that it's been a great year, because it hasn't. In fact, it's been one of my most trying years." — Junior Chuck Hutzell

"The kaleidoscope of bits and pieces of learning has fallen into place. One twelve-year section of the puzzle of life is completed. May the mosaic that you create be the fulfillment of all your dreams." — Mrs. Hilda Brothers

Disappointment

A loss to South Carroll brings disappointment to both Hub players and fans.

FAILING TESTS, RECEIVING detention, missing the bus, gaining weight, and ruining assignments became routine for many a student at North High. Misbehavior kept the coordinators busy issuing detention hours. Although everyone flunked a quiz or test now and then, those making it a habit received the dreaded deficiency slip midway through the marking period. Students with no willpower faced the battle of the bulges. For various sports teams, season records failed to match expectations. Despite disappointments, students survived another year.

Rick Pack gathers belongings amongst students' legs.

Quest

EVERY STUDENT WAS in pursuit of a particular goal at one time or another. Some achieved their intentions, while others suffered the disappointment of failure. Scholars sought exceptional grades in order to continue their education at an institute of higher learning. Athletes attempted to increase their power by building their muscles with strenuous exercises. Those with scientific minds enjoyed probing areas of study unknown to them. Younger folk hoped only to gain maturity. Whether college, work, or high school faces us in the future, we shall seek that which satisfies our ambitions.

Victory

After 1,300 hours of work, Co-Editors Jon Macht and Linda Minnich enjoy personal satisfaction.

REGARDLESS OF THE sport, victory rang through the halls and corridors before each contest. Spirit-leading cheerleaders demonstrated their ability to "psych" the players with signs and tokens, and aroused the fans for increased support at the games. Although the scoreboard might not have declared victory in some instances, every team at North High was a winner. For the homecoming and sweethearts queens, preliminary tense moments became joyous victories which will remain forever in their minds. After working steadily throughout the year, Heiskelite staffers enjoyed the personal satisfaction of completing this annual. Seniors won their ultimate victory, the high school diploma.

Preceding his final game as head football coach, Walter Galbraith expresses victory hopes to crowd at pep assembly.

Lori Neisser proudly receives her diploma.

Chris,
To a nice person whom I don't know very well. But have fun over the summer
with the girls but don't let them get you into trouble.
Good Luck

Jackie Brooks.

Have fun over the summer
Coming over the railroad tracks with your friends

Impressions.

Like imprints on the sands of time,
Remain forever in our minds.
Fine impressions of the past
Build castles of the future.

Best wishes through the summer months
~~and~~ maybe I'll see you or the fool or somewhere else.

James London
P.S. maybe you'll get lucky
